

This may not be the right form for my concern about allowing automated voice telemarketing to resume regardless of my being on the do-not-call list. It has been so pleasant not having to answer those most annoying calls. Please do not change the rules for any special group. Thank you.